Biopolitics is not easy to define. In Biopolitics: An Advanced Introduction, German sociologist Thomas Lemke does not back away from this fact but instead seeks to provide a historical narrative outlining the contours and development of the term and its use. In fact, the term has been used in conflicting and contradictory ways, so a standard definition is unhelpful because it would likely distort this history.

Biopolitics is an intersectional field between human biology and politics. It is a political wisdom taking into consideration the administration of life and a locality's populations as its subject. To quote Michel Foucault, it is "to ensure, sustain, and multiply life, to put this life in order.". The term was coined by Rudolf Kjellén, a political scientist who also coined the term ...
